Thank you for purchasing Electro Brain Corporation's original “Jim Power The Lost Dimension in 3D”.
“Jim Power The Lost Dimension in 3-D” utilizes the revolutionary NUOPTIX 3D to combine incredible game action with three-dimensional graphics creating an astoundingly realistic game. The three-dimensional effect is enhanced by the glasses but glasses are not necessary for the virtual effect and is functional on any type of television or video monitor.

Note: The stages “Guardian’s Castle” and “Time Tower” do not utilize the NUOPTIX 3D but incorporate the similarly impressive Mode 7 graphics.
If you do not see the 3D effect:

- Check to make sure that the dark color filter is in front of your left eye.
- You may be one of the 10% of the population who has little or no 3D vision in everyday life and will therefore have no 3D vision in the game. "Jim Power: The Lost Dimension" may still be played without glasses, however.
Special Agent Jim Power—The very universe itself is threatened with extinction. An alien force, an evil being called Vaprak, threatens all life in the known universe. This being has ambushed our fleet of warships and decimated them and now promises to annihilate us. Our world, until now, has blocked a rift in a dimensional vortex that walls off billions of his brethren in a fifth and what was of late, a lost, dimension. If he succeeds in defeating us, he will destroy our world and open this rift allowing his brethren to ravage galaxies. Further, this foreign dimension, which our third-dimensional world is unaccustomed to, seems to have a reality distorting effect causing unpredictable mutations on all organic life forms. Vaprak, guardian we have discovered, serves as a powerful for this portal, has become too frontal assault: we realize that our only hope is to send in a lone human agent, too small for Vaprak’s Omni-eye scanners to detect, to slip past the big lasers and scanners and, hopefully, send him back to the Lost Dimension. We can equip you with a blaster, a jet pack, a uni-jet when you are underground beneath the enemy scanners, and a gyro-cycle, as well as an energy suit powered with smart bombs; we will try and leave you weapons, but we can guarantee nothing. One more smart bombs and other items along the way, although we feel you have the best thing, although we feel you have the best chance of success of any of our agents, this route is in some ways more dangerous than a direct frontal assault. We have sent in other agents before you... none have ever returned. It is imperative you succeed in this mission, we will not get a second chance. Good luck, Mr.Power, you are our last and only hope.
Insert your "Jim Power The Lost Dimension" game pak into your Super Nintendo Entertainment System and turn the power on. After the title screen appears, you will see you have three options, Start Game Options, and Hi-Scores. If you wish to view your options, use the control pad to move the arrow to "Options" and press start.

Here you will be shown your controller functions as well as be able to choose the difficulty level of the game, Easy, Medium, or Hard.
BEGINNING THE GAME

X BUTTON—To use your blaster for rapid fire.

Y BUTTON—For single blaster shots.

B BUTTON—To jump when you are on foot. To give the uni-jet (your spaceship) a power boost.

A OR R BUTTON—To use your smart bombs. Note: if you hold down these buttons you can continue to move; the smart bomb is released when you release the button.

START BUTTON—Pauses the Game.

START + SELECT—Quits the game.
When you are ready to begin your mission, move the arrow to “Start Game” and press the Start-button. You will now begin your desperate mission. Before you reach the planet and between each stage we will give you a map.

This map cost many spies their lives but it will show you your location in respect to Vaprak as well as give you an idea of what to expect. When you are ready to begin.

There are seven check-points marked on the map. At these points we have placed the equipment best suited for each terrain, some areas must be traveled on foot, some by jet pack or uni-jet, and others on a gyro cycle. We have also commissioned some spies and our very few allies on the planet to hide weapons in weapon pods along the way. These are:

WEAPON POD:
Holds a store of help items.

EXTRA LIFE:
Gives you an extra shot at reaching Vaprak.
EXTRA TIME:
This is actually a cloaking device.

POWER UP:
Modifies your weapon into something more powerful.

KEY:
Opens locked gates and doors.
SMART BOMBS:
An extra energy pack for your suit.

SPACE SUIT: Comes complete with a jet pack.
This, also, has cost us a lot of men but no price is too high for, if you fall, the universe is doomed. As you get closer and closer to Vapriak, his defenses will be more and more formidable, so use caution. Between check-points, you will not only get to view the map, but will receive bonus points for time remaining, lives left and gems collected.
Listed in the top left hand corner of the screen is your number of lives, smart bombs and keys. In the middle of the screen is your time and at the top right hand corner is your score.

Score—This is the only way you can rate your performance between stages and previously successful missions and is allotted for defeating opponents, picking up gems and successfully completing an area between check-points.

Time—You can't remain too long between check-points or Vaprik's minions will discover you and you will be eliminated. The clocks (see weapons) are actually power batteries used to recharge your cloaking device and give you more time to complete a phase of your mission.

LIVES—Each time Jim Power is hit by an enemy or falls into a trap, he loses a life. Once his lives and/or all his continues (3) are gone, the game is over. Note on continues: at the end of the game, you are given the option to continue. If you wish to do so, press start when the arrow is on the "yes" option. If you wish to start over, use the control pad to move the arrow to the "no" option and press start. The number of credits represent the number of continues you have left.
SMART BOMBS — Your suit is powered up with enough energy for three bio-charges powerful enough to obliterate almost everything around you. We will try to deliver more energy packs to you along the way.

KEYS — You will need this to get past doors and gates; we have hidden the keys to these doors where your enemies won’t find them, but there are only as many keys as there are doors so you must find them all.

Remember, once again, Mr. Power — you are our last and only hope!
HELPFUL HINTS

1. Collect gems for extra points.
2. Use your booster when you are in the uni-jet to get out of sticky situations.
3. Save smart bombs until you really need them. Once they run out they’re gone for good.
4. Watch for weapon pods as well as keys along the way. They may very often save your skin.
